Fallibroome Trips and Educational Visits Code of Conduct

We place a high value on educational visits, fieldwork, trips and study tours. All students attending these trips are representing Fallibroome and, as such, the highest standard of behaviour is expected at all times.

The Code of Conduct must be adhered to by all students participating in trips organised by, or on behalf of, The Fallibroome Academy. Acceptance of participation on a school trip implies acceptance by both parents and student of the Code of Conduct as a basic condition of the contract for the trip.

- Normal school rules apply for the duration of the trip. These will be interpreted sensibly in the light of particular activities and local conditions. Minor discipline issues will be dealt with by the party leader at the time of the trip and more serious offences will be reported back to the school.
- Students must conduct themselves in a reasonable manner and behave with consideration to others at all times.
- Students must follow the instructions of all staff/accompanying adults during the trip.
- Students must be punctual at all times during the trip, and need to maintain a clear understanding of where they need to be and when.
- Students remain responsible for their belongings and valuables whilst on trips.
- Students should never deliberately put themselves, or others, at risk.
- The laws, rules and culture of a country must be respected at all times.
- If free time is allowed during a trip, students must always be in groups of at least three to ensure their safety.
- Any student who attempts to purchase or consume alcohol, to smoke or to engage in the abuse of other substances, or to engage in any behaviour that could bring the school into disrepute, will face a full investigation which could result in serious disciplinary action.
- On residential visits, all students will be in their allocated rooms by the time given. Students will adhere to the ‘lights out’ instruction and be respectful of all other residents. At no time should students be in the rooms allocated to members of the opposite gender.
- No student should leave a residential venue on their own.

We reserve the right to withdraw any student prior to a trip if it is deemed their behaviour, in the weeks between booking and departure, poses a threat to their safety and/or the safety of others. In the event of such a decision, any costs incurred will be forfeited by the parents.

Any student who breaches the Code of Conduct during a trip risks losing the opportunity to take part in future educational trips and visits.

If a student has to be returned home for a serious breach of the trip rules and/or Code of Conduct, this will be at the parents’ expense.
